

Call for submissions

At the Forks is seeking submissions for publication!

At the Forks is a digital platform developed by the Centre for Human Rights Research (CHRR) and the Mamawipawin Centre for Indigenous Governance and Community Based Research at the University of Manitoba. This online platform features accessible, open-access writing that engages with the intersections of Indigenous and human rights in and around the prairies and northwestern Ontario.

We are interested in:

- Pieces exploring the intersections, tensions, collaborations and possibilities of human rights and Indigenous rights in the territories connected to the meeting of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers. We are particularly interested in providing a platform for new voices—including that of graduate students and community-based scholars
- Anywhere from 1000 to 5000 words
- We welcome cross-posting articles with other platforms

We will be able to provide modest honoraria to authors in recognition of their work.

We ask that all contributors review the At the Forks Author Checklist and submit this checklist with your contribution to AtTheForks@umanitoba.ca

Thanks to a SSHRC Communications Grant and to our contributing partners around the University of Manitoba (including the Margaret Lawrence Endowment Fund, Women's and Gender Studies, Arts, and History).
