

CHRR Student Researcher

Temporary Part-Time Position (September 2026 – December 18, 2026)

Hours: 8 hours per week (average) | Location: Fort Garry Campus / Remote

The Centre for Human Rights Research (CHRR) at the University of Manitoba is looking to hire a Student Researcher. The CHRR was established in 2012 to bring together people and organizations – both within and outside the University of Manitoba – to enhance interdisciplinary and collaborative research capacity, create richer training opportunities for students, and facilitate the fusion of research-driven knowledge, public policy and intellectual debate on issues related to human rights and social justice.

The Student Researcher will assist the CHRR in its project “Calling for Justice and Reimagining Governance: The Rematriation of Indigenous Women’s Human Rights and the Obligations of All Governments.”

We are looking for a graduate student to support research exploring government reports, inquiries, and recommendations as they relate to issues of colonialism, reconciliation, human rights violations, resistance, and justice. Experience in archival research is an asset. Salary range is $22.00 - $24.00/hour depending on qualifications.

Application Procedures

Eligible applicants must be enrolled at the University of Manitoba. To apply for this position, please submit your resume and a cover letter telling us a little about yourself, your research interests, and why you would like to apply to this position. Full applications can be emailed to chrr@umanitoba.ca. Please add "Calling for Justice" in the subject line. The deadline for applications is August 28th at 12noon.